BACK TO THE FUTURE 2

ADVANCING THE PLOT WITH ESTABLISHED THERAPIES

Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to invite you to the Dr. Falk Pharma satellite symposium on Thursday, 19 February 2026, during the 21st Congress of ECCO.

Established therapies continue to play a key role in the management of IBD and related diseases. This symposium highlights practical, evidence-based approaches to optimize their use, particularly 2nd-generation corticosteroids, to improve patient outcomes.

Our program features discussions led by renowned experts, including:

Oral and rectal treatment: The power of established IBD drugs
Prof. Geert D'Haens (Amsterdam UMC, the Netherlands)

Ulcerative proctitis and left-sided colitis: A to Z of treatment
Dr. Tommaso Parigi (IRCCS San Raffaele Hospital, Milan, Italy)

Recognizing the overlooked: Mild-to-moderate CD and the microscopic colitis you didn't expect
Dr. Rupa Banerjee (AIG Hospitals, Hyderabad, India)

Performance with precision: Meet the 2nd-generation steroid for EoE
Prof. Luc Biedermann (University Hospital Zurich, Switzerland)

Join us in Room A11 for an engaging and interactive discussion as we advance the plot with established therapies.

Prof. Geert D'Haens (chair)

Abbreviations: AIG: Asian Institute of Gastroenterology; CD: Crohn's disease; ECCO: European Crohn's and Colitis Organisation; EoE: eosinophilic esophagitis; IBD: inflammatory bowel disease; IRCCS: Scientific Institute for Research, Hospitalization and Healthcare; UMC: University Medical Center.
